

flash backdrop everytime a character gets a thing - it goes back
A raindrop can trigger it.

Everytime a character

Alicia Kebabian as the mom that they think they got abducted by aliens. Dallas and Mac never speak of it - but she came back and she had burn marks over her - but people said that it was to resuce their dog - who ran off to chase something - underneath the powerlines - there - during the storm she got zapped. But my Dad and I both saw what really happened.

This is a test below

My Markdown with HTML

Alicia Kebabian as the mom that they think they got abducted by aliens. Dallas and Mac never speak of it - but she came back and she had burn marks over her - but people said that it was to resuce their dog - who ran off to chase something - underneath the powerlines - there - during the storm she got zapped.

But my Dad and I both saw what really happened.

Movie's Intro

Life doesn't seem to control anything - just not the way that light does. The man from the funeral home had a nephew who was slow - he was showing me off wrestling magazines and talked about how life throws the lemons at the champion and the champion always squashes the lemons - I nodded but later have come to think about this quote often - life throwing things at me - what is life? Does life have a mind? Does life make decisions? What does that mean?

I went on the internet that night and found that quote scattered everywhere. But then I realized that I was wrong in the looking.

Transitions into next scene where Dallas and Mac are driving towards theyre seaside town.

Sample Screenplay

INT. OFFICE - DAY

John rushes into the room, breathless, looking around. Papers are scattered everywhere.

JOHN

Where is everyone?

(panicked)

I need to find them before it's too late!

SARA (O.S.)

John, calm down. They're safe.

CUT TO: