

TITLE

Written by

Author's Name

Copyright (c) 2025

Draft
information

Contact information

UPDATED 01-04-25

Oh what a drag it is to be young -
how the earth shatters

The woods come up through the river - there is a little hatch - and a little camp out - and a nice little cottage - and across the other little cottage - and it's a part of Canada that these family and friends went up and started living - and they all live in peace.

They still use smart phones but it is not as alluring as it is - and they get transported back to tales of the old

One day a tribe man visits them and tells them of a

EXT. WOODS

Douglas goes out and for a long drag as he looks at a big pile of wood that he has been looking at - and for a while - the wood has been looking back at him.

In the distance there is a little shed of a cabin with rising smoke going up from the chimney.

Douglas takes a long drag - and takes out a little binocular to get a peak closer.

A man riding in with a horse comes along - with a cart full of goodies.

Douglas smiles. And packs up

As Douglas walks down towards him - a little creature off in the distance begins to follow him.

INT. CABIN

Douglas walks in carrying a bunch of wood.

DOUGLAS
Hello my dear friends - are you all ready for a nice cozy winter evening -

WIFE

Not a real holiday

DOUGLAS

Oh it is - it is the